Course Description

Chapter 1 considers the nature of long term care, including the typical conditions requiring long term care, the differences between skilled and custodial care, and the settings in which long term care is delivered.

Chapter 2 addresses the issues of long term care costs and payers, including the national average costs for skilled and custodial care in nursing homes, assisted living facilities, adult day care facilities, and in the care recipient's home.

Chapter 3 discusses long term care insurance and various alternatives to stand-alone policies for payment of benefits.

Chapter 4 addresses the suitability and ethical issues that impact the long term care insurance sale, including the need to provide full disclosure to enable the client to make an informed decision, and the requirements for making an appropriate long term care insurance policy replacement.
