Course Description

The accounting used by government entities is substantially different from the accounting used by for-profit organizations. This course describes the unique aspects of governmental accounting, including the use of funds, the modified accrual basis of accounting, and many unique financial statement formats and disclosures. There is a strong emphasis on common accounting transactions, the comprehensive annual financial report, budgetary reporting, and nonexchange transactions. In short, Governmental Accounting is an essential desk reference for the professional accountant.

Preface

Governmental accounting differs significantly from the accounting used by other organizations, since the focus is on the provision of services, rather than earning a profit. Because of this change in focus, governments use funds to maintain better control of costs, while also formatting their financial statements differently and using a different basis of accounting. Governmental Accounting explains the intricacies of these differences, covering fund accounting, budgetary accounting, the comprehensive annual financial report, and much more.

The book is divided into three sections. In Chapters 1 through 7, we cover the underpinnings of governmental accounting, including such topics as funds, the basis of accounting, the measurement focus, and common accounting transactions. In Chapters 8 through 17, we address every aspect of financial reporting, including the comprehensive annual financial report, budgetary reporting, and the statistical section. In Chapters 18 through 22, we address more specific accounting issues, including claims accounting, landfill closure and postclosure costs, and nonexchange transactions.

You can find the answers to many questions about governmental accounting in the following chapters, including:

- Who formulates governmental accounting standards?
- What are the different types of funds and how are they used?
- How does the measurement focus impact financial reporting?
- How do I depreciate capital assets?
- How do I account for debt service activity?
- How do I account for encumbrances?
- How do I report the results and financial position of a component unit?
- What are the contents of a comprehensive annual financial report?
- What information must be included in the notes to the financial statements?
- How should a budgetary comparison schedule be structured?
- What are the four types of nonexchange transactions and how do I account for each one?

Governmental Accounting is designed for professionals and students, who can use it as a reference tool for recording governmental accounting transactions and generating financial statements.
