Learning Objectives

After reading Chapter 1, participants will be able to:

1. Specify the goals and purposes of asset protection, the objections some people have about shielding assets from creditors, and reasons for asset protection.
2. Identify situations that can unexpectedly put assets and financial security at stake and the common sources of lawsuits.
3. Recognize the author's concept of exploding and imploding liability how dealing with them is necessary for a complete asset protection plan, and the concepts of insurance, asset placement, and statutory protections when applied to asset protection.

4. Specify the types of creditors associated with asset protection and fraudulent transfers recognizing their salient characteristics.

5. Identify the fraudulent transfer provisions which protect current and future creditors, the badges of fraud in the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, applicable statutes of limitation, potential criminal penalties associated with fraudulent transfers, and the differences between fraudulent asset transfers and permissible asset transfers.

6. Determine net worth using a balance sheet, identify asset values, and show the preparation of a balance sheet in the context of determining the depth and scope of suitable asset protection planning.
