After studying the materials in Chapter 2, answer the exam questions 31 to 69.

ASSIGNMENT

SUBJECT

Chapter 3

Spousal & Child Support

At the start of Chapter 3, participants should identify the following topics for study:

- * Divorce or separation instrument
- * Alimony requirements of instruments executed after 1984
- * Alimony requirements of instruments executed before 1984
- * Deducting alimony paid & reporting alimony received
- * Recapture of alimony for type A & B agreements
- * Alimony substitution trusts & annuities
- * Alimony paid by estate
- * Child support
- * COBRA coverage
- * Qualified medical child support orders

Learning Objectives

After reading Chapter 3, participants will be able to:

1. Determine “alimony” and “separate maintenance payments” under §71 and their pre- & post-2019 deduction or income treatment under §215.
2. Specify types of §71 “divorce or separation instruments” and determine how having an invalid decree, an amended instrument, or a premarital agreement impacts such an instrument.
3. Identify variables that impact whether a payment is alimony since 1984 and whether a cash payment is deemed made to or on behalf of a former spouse.
4. Determine the tax treatment of housing costs for the family residence and the impact of ownership by contrasting when the nonoccupying spouse owns the home with when the occupying spouse owns the home.
5. Identify what rent or resident cost payments can be alimony when a family residence is jointly owned and occupied by a spouse or a taxpayer is required to make rent payments for a spouse.

6. Specify the tax treatment of life insurance premium payments, voluntary payments and payments to a remarried spouse recognizing advantages and disadvantages to each spouse.
7. Determine how to recharacterize otherwise deductible alimony payments as nondeductible, identify whether spouses are members of different households, and identify the alimony pitfall of being required to make payments after a former spouse's death.
8. Specify the differences between child support and alimony identifying their tax treatment to avoid reporting errors.
9. Identify the alimony and child support tax provisions that currently apply from those that applied to instruments executed prior to 1985 by:
 - a. Specifying the pre-1985 alimony requirements, and determining periodic payments and whether certain payments would have qualified under these rules; and
 - b. Recognizing the marital or familial relationship and the similarities and differences in the treatment of child support under current law and previous law.
10. Identify the pre-2019 deduction of alimony paid and the reporting of alimony received on the proper forms specifying required information.
11. Specify the pre-2019 alimony recapture rule for various marital agreements and its impact on the tax treatment of past payments.
12. Recognize the use of alimony trusts to realize tax advantage and security, determine the use of annuity contracts, and specify the proper tax treatment of alimony paid by an estate to a former spouse of a decedent.
13. Identify the tax treatment of child support and circumstances where a payment will be fixed as child support, and specify events that determine whether a contingency is clearly child-related and how to rebut this presumption of child support.
14. Recognize the COBRA and qualified medical child support order rules by:
 - a. Identifying whether COBRA rules apply to different plans including notice & deadline requirements and specifying situations that may result in a termination of continuing coverage; and
 - b. Determining what constitutes "qualified medical child support orders" recognizing differences with other similar orders and identifying the procedures, requirements, and jurisdiction of QMCSOs.

After studying the materials in Chapter 3, answer the exam questions 70 to 99.

Learning Objectives

After reading Chapter 1, participants will be able to:

1. Specify multiple tax implications to consider when going through a divorce, and recognize the requirements and effects of filing as married or unmarried.
2. Identify the requirements for filing a joint return and how to avoid being penalized.
3. Determine the key elements of filing separate returns including what items to report and identify whether or not married taxpayers should file separate returns.
4. Cite the requirements for filing as head of household and the tax advantages and disadvantages of this filing status.
5. Recognize the repeal of personal exemptions, their pre-2018 phaseout, availability, and reporting requirements.
6. Identify the requirements for pre-2005 dependency particularly relationship, married person, citizen or resident and income and, specify the former regular and special method for determining support recognizing complications from back child support.
7. Determine the current “qualified child” standard using residency, relationship, age, and joint return prohibition, and identify requirements that must be met for parents to treat a child as a qualifying child of a non-custodial parent.

8. Identify deductible and nondeductible divorce expenditures specifying which spouse is subject to tax imposed upon withheld wages, and recognize the effects of making separate estimated tax payments or joint declarations of estimated tax.

9. Determine community property and the community property states, and identify the effects of conversion and commingling of property and how to avoid such marital property issues.

10. Identify community income earned by married couples for reporting purposes by:

a. Specifying reporting guidelines, recognizing the allocation of income earned and received into community property and separate property and what income and property belongs to which spouse when they have different residency statuses;

b. Recalling the requirements for the special community income allocation rules of §66(a), determining what constitutes community property termination and specifying the treatment of alimony payments; and

c. Recognizing the use of statements and records to provide estimates of a former spouse's income and identifying conditions for greater tax relief.

11. Identify the effect of living together on filing statuses and dependency, determine differences between the married tax rate and other tax rates, recognize the tax consequences of having a living together contract to avoid tax traps, and specify the results of Marvin v. Marvin.
